

Hospital Application Made County Vote To Be Called

Board of Supervisors, after meeting yesterday, voted a motion to make application for additional funds to construct a 30 bed hospital building in Bay St. Louis, and to the plan before the voters at a meeting tomorrow. The County's three judges, A. K. McNeese, Dr. Charles W. Glazier, and Dr. Howard Lester, will meet with the voters in a house to discuss the proposed hospital and other pertinent information.

Courtesy, which included Mayor R. G. "Jimmy" Hulsey, City Commissioner J. C. and Warren Ulrich, Dr. Schmitz, Dr. Charles W. and Supervisor Charles, had attended a meeting in Bay Monday of this week, and discussed the need for a county for better hospital care with the three Hospital trustees, which made clear that Hancock County wanted the A priority it did in the Hill-Burke question brought up here two years ago.

The delegation was told that the delegation could be made, and applications would then be presented to the Board of Supervisors, which would then have to approve. They were apprised as far as they could go among top priority.

A Hospital commission told the delegation that there are 14 priority groups in the state, and did not know how many on the current waiting list, discussion arose over the ranking of the state's various former plan of aid to hospitals. Mr. Hulsey said he had learned that the possibility of legislation at the meeting of the state legislature to reduce state aid, but only suggestion and no definite assurance that aid would be reduced.

Mr. Hulsey brought out the fact the delegation was received by the hospital commissioners, and it was mentioned from time to time that the hospital is not using Federal funds available two years ago. An application was made for additional hospital funds.

Gold Borden's invention of dried milk actually dates back to 1850, but it wasn't until 1911, a year after he had obtained United States and English patents for his product. His invention proved a business success, and it was a vital need of the day — the need for a pure, safe milk supply.

While returning from the Lowell Exhibition where he won a gold medal for a concentrated milk he had invented, Gold Borden saw immigrant children on the ship becoming sick from lack of milk. The only milk available to them was that coming from two sick cows on board. On land, Gold Borden found that the public was being served with "milk" coming from cows raised in distillery stables and fed on fermented meat, or a product decorated with chalk for thickness and molasses for creaminess". Infant mortality was high and many children and adults suffered from diseases caused by the unsanitary milk. As an intensely religious man and one who was devoted to the cause of humanity, Borden de-

DOVER, VA. (PRINCING)—James Maufrey, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Facelmaun Maufrey of Kim, Miss., aboard the Navy cruiser USS Macon, will take part in an international Navy Review scheduled to be held June 12 at Hampton Roads, Va.

More than 60 U. S. Atlantic fleet ships, headed by the latest aircraft carriers, battleships, guided missile cruisers, destroyers and submarines, have been chosen to represent the United States. In addition, at least foreign nations will display their might for the first international naval review to be held American waters since 1957. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson is expected to represent President Eisenhower at the review.

The ships will be in the Hampton Roads area for "Fleet Week," which ends June 17. During this time, numerous "American-type" entertainment events have been planned by the local committee, especially for the visiting seamen.

The review will be a major highlight of the Jamestown Festival, commemorating the 300th anniversary of the founding of the town, Va., colony in 1607.

THE CARMICHAEL CASE

We are happy to note that the editor of this newspaper has joined the other two groups of responsible citizens and persons chosen of this community and neighboring counties, the U. S. Marine Corps, and citizens of all the armed services who have been subjected to the historical vilification and personal abuse of others, Grafton.

We don't mind it for, like other WMD, we think "the only thing worse than being mixed about in MDT being called about".

Remember for this irresponsible body the stock upon us was mostly a censoring desecration of our most selected experience and our little and highly damaging character assassination of the men who have been sent to inflict upon many innocent souls who have failed to recall dimensions of the ample legal means provided for protection of their characters.

Remembered, you can't afford the type of position, highly charged, and legally dubious status upon you in requesting.

To remember that you do not know that neither that nor any other newspaper has any more legal rights under you and subject you to such damaging stories than an institution.

Remember that you fell so miserably that an editor, publisher or printer is not an legally accountable before the bar for his impudent publications.

Remember, citizens and persons are just as subject to civil action and criminal prosecution for their offenses and transgressions as are institutions.

You must know that, especially you lawyers and public officials against whom so many of these creatures have been directed.

It is, moreover, your public duty as well as a personal obligation to your wives and children to put an end to this kind of impossible, injurious slander.

Your failure to act and avail yourselves of the abundant legal means, both criminal and civil, set up for your protection against the kind of institution makes you complicit and open to suspicion. Don't you realize that?

Mr. J. W. Johnson, 100, Gadsden, first class, US Army, left early for the 19th Annual Camporee, Gadsden, where he will attend a conference of leading scouts.

He formerly served two years in the Army prior to his discharge.

The United States today. Not one cent was spent in promoting the Gulf Coast; I, Mr. Gaudet added.

Mrs. Thompson, and E. M. Brignac, both of Bay St. Louis, pointed out that the L and N could help to get additional business if it would be willing to make an extra stop in the Gadsden area.

Since location was not remedied

the thought was that some way should be found to attract customers

from the surrounding points in the area.

Ralph Verchuck who identified himself as a lawyer deeply interested in the Gulf Coast, suggested the following:

By which the L and N arrived at the conclusion that through short operation of the Gadsden

it was losing $40,000 annually.

At the conclusion of the New Orleans meeting, Whitmore assured Verchuck that he would have the accounting formula ready for him at the Bay St. Louis meeting. But at the conclusion of the Bay meeting, Whitmore said that it would be made available "soon," but that it was not available at the moment.

At New Orleans said no "special" accounting had been made, then later he said it was "especially prepared."

The Bay St. Louis meeting was for more practical and estimated that use the New Orleans accounting.

At the Bay meeting Whit-

It was actually at the Bay St.

Louis meeting that Whitmore made the first statement that the L and N already had decided on its course of action if differences were and will, "Should you, Mr. Seal?"

"No," because we don't expect to make any money out of it as you discuss it. It is going to cost everybody else," Mr. Seal replied.

The discussion ended on a friendly note and Verchuck had made a motion that the application be made and when accepted that the people be allowed to vote on the necessary issue.

The motion was carried unanimous by the Board.

not overcome. That decision was simply to eliminate the consumer service. Residents again voiced strong disapproval.

Then Solotar, a Bay resident, suggested that Sunoco service be eliminated, if necessary.

Norman Routhier, a freight forwarder, firmly stated that he had always wanted to assist the L and N freight-wise, but if any attempt was made to curtail the consumer service he would do everything to divert his freight elsewhere.

O. J. Kay, who pointed out that he was a shipper directly and indirectly, explained that he had watched the trend of the L and N and that there was but one conclusion—the L and N design was to ignore the coast as far as passenger service was concerned. He also recommended a step be made by the consumer trade of Higgins Industries in N.O.

Whitmore passed out their letter specifying $402,841.00 due to the Gulf Coast port authorities of $16 per gallon, which could amount to $16 per year, plus

The Rev. William A. Bassett, pastor of First Baptist Church, Mr. L. L. Johnson, president of the church, and Mr. J. E. Johnson, trustee, were honored at the anniversary service.

The new building planned there on this page, will be of brick construction of New England architecture. It will be Sunday School room, an recreation room, etc. to be charged with the use of lodges, a kitchen, and more. The new organ will accommodate over 300 persons.

The two story building was designed and planned by the Director of Architecture of the Missouri Baptist Sunday School Association, and the goal set for its erection and furnishing is $10,000.

The Baptist congregation here built a little four room frame building in Cedar Run Cemetery in 1865 with the Rev. John T. Lang, Jr., as its pastor. Less than a dozen attended the first service held in the little building providing a humble beginning for a church which has since grown to a present size of over 300. Four meetings after the church was dedicated in Bay St. Louis, the congregation called off plans for a new church but was forced to remain in the little structure and depend on contributions (see page 11).

Local Pastors Assigned

Rev. A. M. Ellens, pastor of Main Street Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis, and the William Pinson, pastor of Jackson Harbor Methodist Church, were reassigned to their new charges by the Ministerial Conference in Jackson last week.

In addition to the Clementine Church, the Rev. Mc. Farland will be pastor in charge of Cleveland Methodist Chapel and Peartreeton Methodist.

Elect Reinike
Chairman Head

Mr. Reinike was elected chairman of the Clementine Part of the ministerial conference. Mr. Reinike recently replaced the unexpired term of Bell Ellens, who resigned from political office.

Along with Mr. Reinike will be James Boulter, first vice-chairman; Lucas Pachet, junior vice-chairman; Gilmore, adjutant; Rollie Seeger, auditor; A. J. Bowden, recorder; LaMonte Dickie, captain; John Hetherington, treasurer; Chris Burdette and Frank Tacon, caterers; Lucius Kidd, judge.

Delegates were elected to attend state convention slated for July 7, 8, and 9 in Jackson. Mr. LaMonte Kidd, John Ellens, Roger Reinike, Lucas Pachet, Arthur LaMonte, Robert Reinike, George Ellens, and Gilmore Seeger were chosen to represent the Clementine Part of the ministerial conference.

It is expected that the new pastor will be presented at the next meeting of the ministerial conference.
